

Fall 2021 Application for the Spring 2022 Program of the Year

Name of Program:

Program Contact Information:

Persons(s) Submitting Application and Contact Information:

(Person(s) submitting application MUST be current N4C members and also have the program director's knowledge of/approval for the application). Note that a representative from the Program MUST be a registered attendee at Spring Conference in order to be eligible for the Award.)

Affiliation: (university, community college, technical college, other)

Mission of program: (academic, student services, research, etc.; programs may have multiple functions)

Program Information: (full-time, part-time, lab school, years of program operation, school year or year-round, etc.)

Number of children and age groups served:

Accreditation: (NAEYC, NAC, SACUS, etc.)

Teaching staff: (positions, qualifications, years of service)

Uniqueness of your program:

Why do you think your program should be awarded the Program of the Year?

How does your program reflect the goals of NCCCC?

How does your center interact with your campus/reflect the culture of the campus? (student involvement and support, academic department and/or faculty connections, research, etc.)

Additional Documentation:

EPortfolio of documentation highlighting your program and/or 2 minute video of your program including classrooms, playgrounds, curricula, innovations, teachers comments, student comments, faculty comments, letters of support, etc. (Applicants are responsible for providing any permissions for photos). Please ensure documentation is focused and reflects the essential aspects of your program. More is not necessarily better!

If video is submitted it must be in .mp4 or similarly accessible format, such as YouTube, for ease in viewing.

Please return by November 15, 2021 to:

Tonya Palla, Executive Director at tonyap@campuschildren.org